Possessing a Spirit of Thanksgiving

Colonists in New England and Canada regularly observed "thanksgivings," days of prayer for such blessings as safe journeys, military victories, or abundant harvests. Americans model their holiday on a 1621 harvest feast shared between the Wampanoag people and the English colonists known as Pilgrims. (Britannica) Unfortunately, many of us only view this time of year as a day of enjoying various activities with family and friends where God is often not honored.

The Pastor's Corner

In Psalm 100, God admonishes us to enter His presence with thanksgiving. In every situation, we need to be thankful for this is the will of God. (1Thess. 5:18). We know that, as believers in Christ, everything will work out for our good according to His will (Rom. 8:28). Therefore, we need to possess a spirit of thanksgiving, regardless of the challenges we may face.

Our trials may seem like they're about to overtake us. But God doesn't want us to be anxious about the times we're living in, but for us to send our trials up to Him with prayers and petitions with thanksgiving. Therefore, it is of vital importance to start every day with honor and glory to our Lord and Savior.

The Co-Pastor's Nuggets

Don't Stress in The Process

Matthew 6:31 "Therefore take no thought, saying, what shall we eat? Or What shall we drink: or, wherewithal shall we be clothed?"

God did not mean for us to carry the load of worrying about how we would be provided for in this life. Even in the Garden of Eden, God made provision for man so they would not have to wonder how they would be taken care of.

Stress and worry are some of the things that came along with the sin nature of mankind. It was never God's plan for us to be overly concerned about our next meal or where our clothing would come from.

He did, however, make a remedy for us by saying if we do not work, then we cannot expect to eat, (2Thes 3:10). This simply means that we are to use the tools God has given us to provide for ourselves, while keeping in mind that He is our ultimate source and provider.

With this said, there is no need for us to stress in the process of whatever challenges come our way. We have to continue to look to the Hills from whence cometh our help, which is God our Father, (Psalms 121:1).

So, the next time you feel the emotion of stress trying to bombard your mind, turn to God. Remember that God is your source from which every one of your blessings flows. He does not want you to stress concerning things that are out of your control, but He does want you to make good use of the resources He has given you, such as your mind, your hands & feet, and a heart to always rely on Him.

Don't stress while in the process because God will always see you through.

humbly submitted.
